

I'm The Girl

Ashley Gearing

Oooooo yeah
The message of love is a mystery so divine
Spoken your words that are whispering in the night
Do I have to spell it out for you or hang a neon sign until you
Finally see the answer after all
I've had my share of broken arrows
Young and wild and not too careful
But I still wanna go around the world
I may not be a Cinderella
But you don't need a fortune teller
'cause anyone can see that I'm the girl
So ready or not you're staring it in the face
The iron is hot and you're running just a little late yeah
I can understand your hesitation
Should be makin' reservations
Better seize the moment while ya can 'cause
I've had my share of broken arrows
Young and wild and not too careful
But I still wanna go around the world
I'm not exactly unattractive
You should be so cool the fact is
That anyone can see that I'm the girl
I am the one who wants you and not know that you know
And you're the one who wants to but just can't let go
I've had my share of broken arrows
Young and wild and not too careful
But I still wanna go around the world
Yes I do
I may not be a Cinderella
But you don't need a fortune teller
'cause anyone can see that I'm the girl
I'm the girl oooooo yeah I'm the girl
