

Do It All Again

Ashley Kutcher

Please tell me I'm not as forgettable, as you make me feel
Scared that I might move on, forget it all, if I try to heal

So I still can't wash the wine out of my rug
The way that we laughed when you dropped your cup
And I still can't toss the clothes you never picked up
So I wear your shirt to still feel your touch

Whooo, who am I kidding
I can't pretend, I regret
Yooou, I still miss it
From time to time, I admit
I miss the spark as we burned every bridge
I'd ride the wave even if I knew I'd drown again
Whooo, who am I kidding
I'd do it all again, all again

All of my favorite books have made me cry, but I don't rip out pages
So why would I tear out our storyline, no I wouldn't change it

Yeah I still bring you up so I can say your name
I wonder sometimes if you sound the same
If you found somebody else to love you in my place
Even the worst parts I won't erase

Whooo, who am I kidding
I can't pretend, I regret
Yooou, I still miss it
From time to time, I admit
I miss the spark as we burned every bridge
I'd ride the wave even if I knew I'd drown again
Whooo, who am I kidding
I'd do it all again, all again

Do it all, all...
Do it all again, all again...
