Ashley Ryan

You don't wanna hurt me boy
Because once you cross that line
You'll be playin' with fire
And you don't get the water
From my tears this time

You told me you would marry me
Then you picked this other girl instead
Well big mistake boy, watch your back
I'm gonna make you wish that you were dead

You stole the piece of my naive heart
And I never quite got it back
Now it's mended with steel
And I'mma make you feel like a heart attack

Just know that when you kiss her lips
And I'm in the back of your head
Reassure your thoughts of what you want
It's far too gone to ever try again

Ooooo you can run, run, run
But ooooo you can't hide
Ooooo try and run, run, run
But baby I will find you

Don't you think you're too quick for me
'Cause baby I can light a match
Quicker than your games before you make her think
She can fall for that

If I were you I wouldn't be Too worried 'bout my daddy's shotgun
If you wanna know more come knock on my door
I'll introduce you to my one ounce slug

Ooooo you can run, run, run
But ooooo you know you can't hide
Ooooo try and run, run, run
But baby you know that I will find you

Because you took me, worked me, robbed me of my Hatfield
Played your games and you got me where you want me
Played me, lied to me, thought that you loved me
Thought that you loved me babe

But now I'm standin'
No more romancin'
The good girl's gone and I don't wanna quit dancin'
With your heart, yeah boy I'll be seein' stars

There's one little thing that I want ya to know
I don't retreat baby I reload

Oh I don't know how you did in school
But sugar Imma teach you a lesson
We'll make history with my M&P

Smith & Wesson

When you met me I was sweet as tea
But honey how the times have changed
You stomped on my heart, Imma tear your world apart
I don't mind the rain, no

Ooooo you can run, run, run, run
But ooooo you know you can't hide
Ooooo go ahead and try to run babe
No matter where you go I will find you

Because you took me, worked me, robbed me of my Hatfield
Played your games and you got me where you want me
Played me, lied to me, thought that you loved me
Thought that you loved me babe

But now I'm standin'
No more romancin'
The good girl's gone I don't wanna quit dancin'
With your heart, yeah boy I'll be seein' stars
