

Rise Up

Asking Alexandria

Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control

I find resolve in the darkest part of my mind
I can stand to be inside
I find the light to be a little much at times
But I will rise

I will rise up with the weight of the world
I will rise up from the darkness, purged

Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control

I face the truth with a bitterness
That won't subside and I face it alone
I'll be the pariah, in your war against yourself
But I will rise

This is a product of hatred and anger
A life spent on the outside but I will rise

I will rise up with the weight of the world
I will rise up from the darkness, purged

I will rise up with the weight of the world
I will rise up from the darkness, purged

I will rise up with the weight of the world
I will rise up from the darkness, purged

Rise up, rise up

Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
Rise up, take back control
