

Rain Falls Down

Assemblage 23

As we live, so shall we die
Suspended by a fragile thread
That wears with every passing moment
A certainty best left unsaid

Rain falls down

As we sleep, so shall we wake
The shocking clarity revealed
As if a veil was somehow lifted
Disclosing what it once concealed

Rain falls down

As we rise, so must we fall
Like gravity, fate reigns us in
The story always ends the same
Over before it can begin

Rain falls down
