Only One

Assuming We Survive

I'll fight with all my heart and soul
To take the pain so that you never have to
But if you only knew, you only knew
That baby I would bleed for you, I'd bleed for you!
And now it feels like you're running away
And that's the last thing I wanna see
Because I'm so far from perfect
I need to be, I need to be!

So when I'm lost in the dark and I'm running aground
If I abandon ship 'cause it's going down
I know you'll never leave me lonely
You're the only one
When you're biting your tongue so you don't make a sound
Being held back or being let down
I know I'll never leave you lonely
You're the only one

'Cause the slower we fall the faster we get back up
And the less that we have the more that we have enough

Can you press my head against my lips
And help be pick up the pieces
Of our regurgitated relationship
Please don't go

So when I'm lost in the dark and I'm running aground
If I abandon ship 'cause it's going down
I know you'll never leave me lonely
You're the only one
When you're biting your tongue so you don't make a sound
Being held back or being let down
I know I'll never leave you lonely
You're the only one

You're the only one

Breaking apart at the seams is not what it seems
It's not what you think it means
'Cause I as I am, I am complete
(I am complete)
And if I didn't know, then now I know
And if I didn't care or didn't show
(Complete)
If I didn't know, then now I know
The hardest part of you is letting go

So when I'm lost in the dark and I'm running aground
If I abandon ship 'cause it's going down
I know you'll never leave me lonely
You're the only one
When you're biting your tongue so you don't make a sound
Being held back or being let down
I know I'll never leave you lonely
You're the only one

'Cause the slower we fall the faster we get back up

And the less that we have the more that we have enough
