

Smile Sometime

Assuming We Survive

I haven't seen you in a long time
Where have you been and what have you been up to
I keep seeing pictures I can read the signs
Wish that you were violet but you're feeling blue

I've known heartache, felt numb and cold
I'm getting used to having to let go
Of all that I've ever known

I really hate to see you dying inside
You know I'd like to see you smile sometime
And when the weight of the world is keeping you from the sky
Just know that there are plenty mountains to climb
Mountains to climb

You haven't seen me in a long time
I've been gone forever and I rarely come through
I've been across the country at least a thousand times
Seen so many faces that I never knew

I still feel heartache, still hate the cold
I can't get used to having to let go
Of all that I've ever known

I really hate to see you dying inside
You know I'd like to see you smile sometime
And when the weight of the world is keeping you from the sky
Just know that there are plenty mountains to climb

When you're down and out give me a call
I'll be there if you need and you know that I
You know that I'll be there
When you're down and out give me a call
I'll be there if you need me and you know that I
I won't, I won't let you fall
(I won't let you fall)
(I won't let you fall)

I really hate to see you dying inside
You know I'd like to see you smile sometime
And when the weight of the world is keeping you from the sky
Just know that there are plenty mountains to climb

I really hate to see you dying inside
You know I'd like to see you smile sometime
And when the weight of the world is keeping you from the sky
Just know that there are plenty mountains to climb
That there are plenty mountains to climb
