

You Don't Know

Assuming We Survive

Well I had a dream that I was lost
And I tried to scream but I ended up
Without much to say

Say, say, say, say that you're gonna change
You break, break every promise you ever made
Say, say, say, say that you're gonna change
And it's not for nothing

The sorrow is what breaks me
Tomorrow I won't be here for you to know
Tomorrow I won't be here and the sorrow's what breaks me
Just thought you should know

Whoa-oh, the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never know
Whoa-oh, the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never know

If I could turn back the hands of time
I sure would try
Wouldn't you if you could? Start it over!

Say, say, say, say that you're gonna change
You break, break every promise you ever made
Say, say, say, say that you're gonna change
And it's not for nothing

The sorrow is what breaks me
Tomorrow I won't be here for you to know
Tomorrow I won't be here, and the sorrow's what breaks me
Just thought you should know

Whoa-oh the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never know
Whoa-oh the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never know
Things you'll never know
Things you'll never know

I'll always be this honest
I'll always be this way
You'll always be dishonest
You'll always be the same
So it's all or nothing

Whoa-oh the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never ever know
Whoa-oh, the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never know

Whoa-oh the things that I don't show
I'll keep 'em locked away with things you'll never know
Things you'll never know
With the things you'll never know
