

You're Almost There

ASTN

I'll admit that I still think about us
But not the way you hoping that I do
I don't want to give you all that power
But talking over this is overdo
(Alright)

I'm not saying we should be together
I just got a different point of view
These couple months been feeling like forever
But we both needed time to call a truce

Ahhhhhhh
I've spent all of this time thinking I'm right
Ahhhhhhh
I've been playing it back in my mind like

Wasn't you, wasn't me, I'm sorry
What's the use, tryna see what are we
Giving up, it's only that much harder
When you're almost there

You and I called it love then started to
Realize it'd be so much smarter to
Give it up but it's so much harder
When you're almost there

I don't hate you I just want you to be happy
And if happy means that you got someone new
No I'm not holding on I wouldn't do that
And it's easier for me to tell the truth
(Okay)

I think that you look real good together
Even if it was a little soon
A couple months you're calling it forever
But looking back we rushed that shit too

Wasn't you, wasn't me, I'm sorry
What's the use, tryna see what are we
Giving up, it's only that much harder

When you're almost there

You and I called it love then started to
Realize it'd be so much smarter to
Give it up but it's so much harder
When you're almost there

When you're almost there

I've spent all of this time thinking I'm right
Ahhhhhhh
I've been playing it back in my mind like

Wasn't you, wasn't me, I'm sorry (I'm sorry)
What's the use, tryna see what are we
Giving up, it's only that much harder

When you're almost there

You and I called it love then started to
Realize it'd be so much smarter to
Give it up but it's so much harder
When you're almost there

When you're almost there
When you're almost there
