

Madness

Astrid van der Veen

sometimes the mind fails and it leaves you with no brain
so go insane
run away
through the valleys of complete madness it's for the better anyway devote your heart to madness before memories hunt you down I sometimes feel the need for madness is this crazy
who needs reality to live a life who needs a brain to realize we can no longer recognize madness sometimes the mind cries and it tells you
please
no more
don't stay here
where we're dying
run away
if you won't lieve
then I will
don't sell your heart to sanity where memories hunt you down
