She said tell me what's your issue
She said tell me what's your problem
I know everything you've been through
And you can't blame no one

So let's start at the top, you're going off
You were the one but you fell on the [?]
She said tell me what's your issue, uh yeah
She said tell me what's your problem

Yeah luxury car brands cover these heartbreaks
I can't buy your love babe but at least the rent's paid
Carries your heart so, when did I drop it
I'm up in that picture, but you must have cropped

Yeah you must have crossed it out, blacked it out
Everything we talked about
How'd you say forever if you're the one that's walking out
It wasn't that serious we could've just worked it out
As time goes on it's something we could learn about

Am I still your favorite, way
Am I still your problem, huh
Am I still your favorite, way
Am I still your problem, so uh

Am I your favorite problem, huh
Am I your favorite issue, huh
Am I your favorite rock star, nah
Am I your favorite

She said tell me what's your issue
She said tell me what's your problem
I know everything you've been through
And you can't blame no one

So let's start at the top, you're going off
You were the one but you fell on the [?]
She said tell me what's your issue, uh
She said tell me what's your problem, so
