L.A. Nights

{One-two-three-four} Black night, white lights Your eyes amplify Like a heartbeat On the downbeat lover Black night, white lights On the B-side, I found what I was after Black night, white lights You're so crazy nice Like a small town Filled with scyscrapers Black night, white lights So divine, take me downtown be my saviour And the whole world is you On this black night Make everything come true Under white lights You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Before things get much crazier There's something you should know You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Sometimes when I watch you sleep I think I made you up You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Before things get much crazier There's something you should know You're on my radar tonight You are Black night, white lights Your hand is locked in mine Like a chain link Sealing the exit Black night, white lights R.G.B.Y. this photo says I'm taken Black night, white lights You're so crazy nice Like a small town Filled with scyscrapers Black night, white lights So divine, take me downtown be my saviour And the whole world is you On this black night Make everything come true Under white lights You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Before things get much crazier There's something you should know You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Sometimes when I watch you sleep I think I made you up

You're on my radar, on my radar

With your designer love Before things get much crazier There's something you should know You're on my radar tonight You are You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Before things get much crazier There's something you should know You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Sometimes when I watch you sleep I think I made you up You're on my radar, on my radar With your designer love Before things get much crazier There's something you should know Oh, my radar Oh, my radar, tonight
