I woke under the cover of darkness Looked up into the television sky Tonight

I wandered through the city alone this Rain wouldn't stop, I couldn't dry my eyes I cried

Who is the one to blame
Why is it that you never say
...when the feeling leaves
...if you're through with me

As I'm walking through the rain Cold tears falling down my face ...like the autumn leaves ...on a windy day

I went to the edge of town Over bright highways where the traffic was the only sound Around

While my eyes were looking at the ground I could see pictures of you floating all around I didn't doubt

Who is the one to blame
Why is it that you never say
...when the feeling leaves

As I'm walking through the rain Cold tears falling down my face ...like the autumn leaves ...on a windy day

Who is the one to blame
Why is it that you never say
...when the feeling leaves

As I'm walking through the rain Cold tears falling down my face ...like the autumn leaves ...on a windy day

Who is the one to blame
Why is it that you never say
...when the feeling leaves

As I'm walking through the rain Cold tears falling down my face ...like the autumn leaves ...on a windy day

Who is the one to blame

Why is it that you never say ...when the feeling leaves ...if you're through with me

As I'm walking through the rain Cold tears falling down my face ...like the autumn leaves ...on a windy day
