Flowers bloom and fall
There is no eternal flame
No, nothing will stay the same
I knew it but
Scooping up ash
Kind memories of us
Like sand in an hourglass
Even though we can't go back
The wind still blows

The lost space, the lost breath
Our memories just vanished
I can't forget you, I can't catch you
Those days were reduced to ashes
In this scattered time
Dancing forever
In this hell, I can't get back from
I'm yearning alone and turn to ash

I'm dancing in the ash
The rush you gave me
I remember it vividly
It becomes the past
I'm dancing in the ash
It's still here, your touch
You're not here, this hush
Even if the shape changes, forever
Smoldering love
Piling up ash

"Thoughts" turns into "Reminiscence"
"Like" turns into "I used to like"
Like I wish I told you more
Undying regret

I don't care about that
You don't have to try and force it
Even if you wash faded clothes
It'll just continue to wears off
There is no sadness, there is no pity
But I continue to pretend
I don't want nail marks on my parting hands
Because I loved you

I'm dancing in the ash
About to break heart crash
Collapsing balance
Spilling memories
I'm dancing in the ash
I want to hold on to the past
Unacceptable fact

Even if I can't see you
My love for you
Accumulating ash

The you in my memories, never ever fades
The color of the world is getting, getting gray
In my heart, forever, you stay, you stay

I'm dancing in the ash
Smoldering love
