

Days

Athenaeum

Lately I've been thinking of something
I want to turn my life around
I've been thinking about what's missing
But I don't really know what I've found
And everything's been worked out
But I don't really know what to be
In the mirror I see a reflection
But I don't even know that it's me

Lay down under the sun
When you feel like you're the only one
Happy days will come your way
And you can turn to me
And wipe your tears away
Happy days will come your way
You're the prettiest by far
And I hope you feel that way

You always told me there must be an answer
Something out there to make it clear
And I've been trying my best to remember
I'd hate to waste another year
And everything's been worked out
I'm what I always wanted to be
In the mirror I see a reflection
I think it's starting to look like me

Lay down under the sun
When you feel like you're the only one

Happy days will come your way
And you can turn to me
And wipe your tears away
Happy days will come your way
You're the prettiest by far
And I hope you feel that way
