

Devil That You Know

Atlas

You run I chase
I know all your hiding places
You can't escape what your heart and mind are saying
When it gets hard to see
Blind by anxiety
Caged by your misery
I'll break the lock and set you free

Pull you close
I got demons of my own
So let's make yours feel at home

I know I'm better off believing
That you won't ever let me go
I try to tell myself
That you've already been through the hell
But that's what keeps me dancing with your ghost

With every open wound you're healing
I see the stars begin to glow
And when the light comes on
There ain't no right or wrong baby
Let me meet the devil that you know

You lie awake over time overthinking
Don't be ashamed everybody makes mistakes...
Girl when the waters deep
And it gets hard to breathe
I'll be the rope that gives you hope and brings you back to me

Pull you close
I got demons of my own
So let's make yours feel at home

I know I'm better off believing
That you won't ever let me go
I try to tell myself
That you've already been through the hell
But that's what keeps me dancing with your ghost

With every open wound you're healing
I see the stars begin to glow
And when the light comes on
There ain't no right or wrong baby
Let me meet the devil that you know
