

Fall

Atlas

I know she'll never see this coming
Make 'em fall and then start running
But I'm afraid to let me get too close
Don't want her to see me broken
I don't want to let the hope in
Why do I feel like I must live this way
What if I don't
What if I stay

Baby don't you know you're the only one
You're the only one
Breaking down these walls of mine
And staying up late to hear your call
And just to try is worth risking it all
You make me want to fall

You make want to get a mortgage
Have a couple of kids
Buy us some land
And build a house on it
Let the dogs run wild and free
Still not sure I deserve to be
The one that gets to watch you grow old
Telling me fears that you never told no one
Girl I know that you're the one for me
Promise you'll stay
And I'll never leave

Baby don't you know you're the only one
You're the only one
Breaking down these walls of mine
And staying up late to hear your call
And just to try is worth risking it all
You make me want to fall

Want to start a new
Take this story I've been writing for myself and mold it for two
It's your eyes
They're bringing in the sunlight
Staring at you now
The Mona Lisa never got it right
Ohhhhh Ohhhhh

Baby don't you know you're the only one
You're the only one
Breaking down these walls of mine yeah
Staying up late to hear your call
Just to try is worth risking it all
You make me want to fall
