

Hell A Home

Atlus

Hide behind a smoke screen
What you see is what you get
Still living with the old me
I can't feel the flames I'm in
The temperatures rising I'm numb to it all
Shout at the heavens for angels to fall
Standing in ashes of paper thin walls
Who else can I call?

Nobody hears my cries
I'm drowning with my hands tied
Halfway on the other side
'Til my demons lift me up
My head needs another high
My heart hit a record low
I'm starting to wonder why
I've made hell a home
Home

Why is feeling lonely
All I have that's left to lose
Been sitting in the nosebleeds
Praying to find a better view
The temperatures dropping I don't feel a thing
Dance with the devil and I take the blame
Burning my soul
Will somebody save me?

Nobody hears my cries
I'm drowning with my hands tied
Halfway on the other side
'Til my demons lift me up
My head needs another high
My heart hit a record low
I'm starting to wonder why
I've made hell a home

Losing hope somebody saved me
Wanna let go somebody save me
Just can't cope somebody save me now
I hate myself somebody save me
Just a shell somebody save me
Home is hell somebody save me now

Nobody hears my cries
I'm drowning with my hands tied
Halfway on the other side
'Til my demons lift me up
My head needs another high
My heart hit a record low
