

Anarchy Means I Litter

Atom and His Package

I got a patch. I got a pin. Obtained political beliefs from the same songs as my friends. I got a five finger discount to the little record store, its easier that to get the stiff I want out. And if you want fair compensation for the work that you do, well then your greedy, get out, we have amazing names to call you. Ever think that there's a difference who you're stealing from? So, fine, I'm not punk and you are (a moron). We're gonna tear this stupid city down. Throw our trash on the ground. (Whine Whine Whine when no bands come to town). Liberate that bottle of malt liquor! Oh, I get it. Anarchy means that you litter (nice!). So, if you're flying the flag, and you're naming the name, then you're setting back the ones who know how to behave. It's a good thing this replenishes itself, or who would be left to take advantage of your "help"? Gonna drop our trash on you.
