

You Took Me By Surprise

Atom and His Package

You took em by surprise, you roll those crazy eyes,
Like the letter, the things inside your head
I can't make up my mind, you know that that's a lie
I really have no decision to be amde

You took me by surprise
You took me by surprise

And then you amde me laugh and now i have a question,
"did you have to do that?"
I feel so dumb inside, i'm tryign to decide
But you'd never await my arrival

You took me by surprise
You took me by surprise

I lke to put myself, pretend i'm soneoen else
Someoen who could write better words than this:

You took me by surprise
You took me by surprise

You took me by surprise, you roll those crazy eyes,
Like the letter, the things inside your head
I can't make up my mind, you know that that's a lie
I really have no decision to be made

Walking in the park
When everything went dark,
I thought i saw your picture i the shadows
But i wasn't that at all, in fact
It was my car
It was someone laughing making me feel small

Maybe i shuld explain, the best that i can
But that would get me in trouble,
Maybe more than i could handle, i feel bad right now
I know that i'm not lucky, so i'll keep my mouth shut and i'll just s ave it for anyone,
And "what's that?" you might ask, and i will say, "i really don't kno w,
I was just being dramatic like a television show"

Some day i will slip, and i'll say the wrong thing,
And the credits will roll and reality will kick in
And i say some day i will slip, and i'll say the wrong thing,
And the credits will roll and reality will kick in
