

I Could Turn

Attack In Black

you should say should say somethings about me that I don't like to believe cause I don't like the sound of what I might be when that old ghost is around

I wish I could turn back to those nights and just stay home I wish I could learn that my thoughts aren't clear when I'm alone its just that I don't understand anything about love.

I should know should know some things about me and not how some people might be but you your heart is true and that I can see by the way its dragging you down friend you are the only person to me but I've been treating you bad but I would try to so hard to be the best friend that you could ever have had so I wont have to turn back to those nights and just stay home maybe I could learn that my thoughts aren't clear when I'm alone and you could teach me everything about love.
