

The Curve of the Earth

Attack In Black

Today I found the curve of the earth
The horizon bounded my feet
Gravity's weight had me defeated
And the core of the earth, I could feel it's heat
I could feel it's heat
Today I saw the change in the sky
And the snow was covered in leaves
The forecast had said it's all in my head
But the sentiment it was not what it seemed
It was not what it seemed to be
Today I stood where I hadn't before
And the void was as big as can be
When the place that I stood went unignored
I never felt quite so alone
Quite so alone before
But I'm alright now
I'm alright now
Somewhere, somehow
I'm alright now
