

Let Me Lay

Aubrey O'Day

How big a gun would it take to shoot the sun out the sky
So daylight won't take you away
Can't wait to sleep, let my mind close the distance from where I
Stand and where I wanna be Paralyzed I'm staring in the distance waiting for the night I'm Waiting to get back to my life cause this one ain't right, no t his
One ain't right I gotta close my eyes to feel alive

Oh, realitys overrated
If all we share is only in my dreams
Oh, the sunlights only waisted
If daylight can never be Then I only wanna dream
Let me lay here, Let me lay here, Let me lay here, Let me lay h ere.
I'd sell my soul for a pill that could keep me in this other di mension with you. There everything That went wrong is corrected I can taste what will never be tru e.
Paralyzed I'm starring in the distance waitin for the night I'm waiting to get back to my life Cause this one ain't right no this one ain't right

I'll be addicted to you for a lifetime
But only able to feel you in the nighttime
