Thunder and Lightnin'

Audience

She pulls my leg and stretches my imagination
Thunder and lightnin' couldn't tear us apart

She puckers her lips up and proffers me an invitation
No two-bit crowbar could prise us apart

She brightens my day and I think I can say
She's altered my life in an incredible way
I'll buy her a ring and legalise the whole thing
Then fly to the country with her under my wing

She sews my clothes up and dominates my conversation
But I could never describe the things she does to my heart

She cooks me food that aggravates my indigestion
But the thing I'm really hungry for she treats like an art
