Oh my god, stop
La dit dah dit da doo la dit dah
La dit dah...
Oh...
No...
I was thinking on a summers day when will he come my way
It's already 5am
It's already 5am
No...

I was waiting for you to text me
When I heard a loud crash from the balcony
Opened the door so you could see me
This boy is confessing his love to me

(So I said)
It's 5:10 in the morning
He's gotta little grin and he's holding a letter
(And then he says)
Your points and suggestions
I think any girl will just fall in love

Could've called me on my phone
Could've sent me a cute note
But baby you just have to be extra
I was thinking on a summers day when will he come my way
It's already 5am
It's already 5am
It's already 5am

It seemed a little condescending
But you're standing on my porch and that's so rare
And now I'm old enough to take it
I said I'm old enough to take you down
Cuz you have nothing up against me
And now we're praying for the best things

The neighbors started waking up
They turn up their lights and they see us
Their fears our commotions
I don't really care anymore

Could've called me on my phone
Could've sent me a cute note
But baby you just have to be extra
I was thinking on a summers day when will he come my way
It's already 5am
Yea yea whoop hey
(Oh um, wait turn it back on)

Ready for the new world
