Ready?

I don't need you to love me, don't need you to care
Much better without you, no need to be wary of
Monsters and dragons and all of the things that you are to me
And I won't ever need you

We were just friends, that wasn't the issue
But then one day you begged me to kiss you
And let down my walls, yeah, I put you first
Tore me to pieces and that fuckin' hurt
Ate all my heart, then had some dessert
Ay-ay, ay-ay-ay

I don't need you to love me, don't need you to care
Much better without you, no need to be wary of
Monsters and dragons and all of the things that you are to me
And I won't ever need you-ooh, woah

I won't ever need you

While we're on it, here's some more bullshit, yeah
Gave you everything, but you blew it, yeah
I was on the brink, about to lose it
Everybody knew it, really put me through it
Two years, same lies
Cry tears, don't want that for sure
(Want that for sure)
No, not anymore

I don't need you to love me, don't need you to care
Much better without you, no need to be wary of
Monsters and dragons and all of the things that you are to me
And I won't ever need you-ooh, woah

I won't ever need you

You-ooh, woah-ooh
I won't ever need you, woah
Don't need you to love me, don't need you to care
I won't ever need you
