Something Beautiful

Augustana

I let you in
I let you closer than I've ever been
If we don't get the chance to meet again
To keep it simple, let's start at the end
At the end

I just want to shout into the sky
I try to make a sound, but it's not mine
It's like I've gotta drown to stay alive
But, I'm watching something beautiful die

I finally see
I finally found out what this means to me
But, I've blocked out all those memories
So, if I start now I might never leave
Never leave

I just want to shout into the sky
I try to make a sound, but it's not mine
It's like I've gotta drown to stay alive
But, I'm watching something beautiful die

I need you to know how hard I tried
I'm close to letting go, so one last time
Just let me hold this note and close my eyes
Cause, I'm watching something beautiful die

I've gone as far as I can go
I sold my heart to borrow my soul
I'm torn apart from head to toe
The hardest part is coming so...

I just want to shout into the sky
I try to make a sound, but it's not mine
It's like I've gotta drown to stay alive
But, I'm watching something beautiful die

I need you to know how hard I tried
I'm close to letting go, so one last time
Just let me hold this note and close my eyes
Cause, I'm watching something beautiful die
