

Youself Yesterday

Augustana

There's my reflection, There's my regret
That's what you wanted so, That's what you get
Light as a feather, This heavy soul
It's always better and harder the longer I go

Set the fire, pray for rain
Live for the moment, suffer the pain
Shadow in the mirror, give it a name
Call it tomorrow you're still yourself yesterday

All those summer colours fade to black and white
All those broken moments haunt you in the night
Don't say (don't say)
What's behind me oh
Please, (don't) don't remind me
It feels to me she'd ask me to future 'till the past
I'm okay

Summer to winter, morning to night
I get the feeling I'm losing my life
Some have emotion, I can't express
Guess I'm still waiting for someone to clean up the mess

I'm only joking, I'll hold the rains
No turning back when there's, no one to blame
Pick up the pieces, it's all the same
Call in tomorrow you're still yourself yesterday

All these summer colours fade to black and white
All those broken memories haunt you in the night
Don't say (don't say)
What's behind me oh
Please, (don't) don't remind me
It feels to me she'd ask me to future 'till the past
I'm okay

Set the fire, pray for rain
Live for the moment, suffer the pain
Shadow in the mirror, give it a name
Call it tomorrow you're still yourself yesterday

All those summer colours fade to black and white
All those broken moments haunt you in the night
Don't say (don't say)
What's behind me oh
Please, (don't) don't remind me
It feels to me she'd ask me to future 'till the past
I'm okay
