

Still Beating

Austin Basham

Never meant to make her cry
And now I'm seeing tears in her eyes
Half and half, make-believe
So she thought that my heart was on my sleeve

Honey, I cried too
Better believe it
And honey, my heart still beats for you
Even though you don't feel it
Beating

I never thought some silly songs
Could ever go and hurt someone
Never meant to sing my tune
For anybody else out there but you

Honey, I cried too
Better believe it
And honey, my heart still beats for you
Even though you don't feel it

Honey, I cried too
Better believe it
And honey, my heart still beats for you
Even though you don't feel it
Even though you don't feel it
Even though you don't feel it
Beating
