

Room 32

Austin George

Should I see you?
Is there any room, in room thirty-two?
The risk outweighs
The price I've paid
But ain't much changed, I'm at the hotel where we stayed

And we were spendin' every night on a tightrope
Yeah, tryin' to keep a face with a smile
It's like driving through the streets with a blindfold
And you, you said it without having to say it
I'm noticing your change in behavior
But still I hope

Any minute you'll call now
And treat me like somebody you care 'bout
Tell me, would it kill you to match how much I try?
Baby, am I not worth your time?
Any minute you'll come 'round
And I won't be somebody you wear out
There's nobody above you, thought I was what you like
Baby, do I not race your mind?
Mhm, mhm-mhm

If your mind change
I'll be down in the star state
And you can leave it to me
I'll keep the door cracked wide for you
No, there ain't a long list of things I'd rather do
I sell my soul
I'll share my whereabouts
Give my best to you, babe

And we were spendin' every night on a tightrope
Yeah, tryin' to keep a face with a smile
It's like driving through the streets with a blindfold
And you, you said it without having to say it
I'm noticing your change in behavior
But still I hope

Any minute you'll call now
And treat me like somebody you care 'bout
Tell me, would it kill you to match how much I try?
Baby, am I not worth your time?
Any minute you'll come 'round
And I won't be somebody you wear out
There's nobody above you, thought I was what you like
Baby, do I not race your mind?
Mhm, mhm-mhm
Mhm, mhm-mhm

Your words hold too much weight
I'm not that strong, I need your praise
I made you smile, I did it right
But still it falls on me like this
But I'll still try to make it right
