

New Addiction

Austin Mahone

I'mma be the one to fuck you in a sports car
I'mma spend a lot of money breaking your heart
Ain't no wishing we can do it in the backseat
I'mma say your name, girl, you ain't gotta ask me
Know this life that we've been living can get so hard
Ain't no way we're getting out of here with no scars
You got me down and out
But I'll be down

When you walk my way you're bound to get attention
When I talk this way I know that you gon' listen
Need you every day I take you like prescriptions
Cause you know my pain I found my new addiction

Running from love
Running from love
You got me running from love with you
You got me running from love
Running from love
You got me running from love with you

Sitting solo at Soho
That's what happens when you fall in love
With someone that's always on the road
Don't start losing control
I know you love it when we're fucking at 3 in the morning
Remember, you're just my homie
Don't you go start getting lonely, on me

When you walk my way you're bound to get attention
When I talk this way I know that you gon' listen
Need you every day I take you like prescriptions
Cause you know my pain I found my new addiction

Running from love
Running from love
You got me running from love with you
You got me running from love
Running from love
You got me running from love with you
You got me running from love
Running from love
You got me running from love with you
You got me running from love
Running from love
You got me running from love with you
