

Cold

Austin Snell

Yeah I've been on a roll getting it all on Guess you had enough can't blame you for letting go
You got a broken heart now you wanna break mine
You wanna hurt me twice as bad as I hurt you and you damn sure tried
Bet you thought you'd get a little further than you did

When you set the house on fire and left me to watch it burn
And now I'm laying here tonight and guess I got what I deserved
Oh I'm no stranger to these flames cause I've been here before
These bricks and boards can burn to hell but you can't melt a h eart this cold

You tried turning up the heat but it was never enough Guess me pouring whiskey out like gasoline turned into your con venience cuz

You set the house on fire and left me to watch it burn
And now I'm laying here tonight and guess I got what I deserved
Oh I'm no stranger to these flames cause I've been here before
These bricks and boards can burn to hell but you can't melt a h eart this cold

Bet you thought you'd get a little further than you did
But you can't break what you can't fix

When you set the house on fire and left me to watch it burn
And now I'm laying here tonight and guess I got what I deserved
Oh I'm no stranger to these flames cause I've been here before
These bricks and boards can burn to hell but you can't melt a h eart this cold
But you can't melt a heart this cold
