Austin Snell

I knew I'd run into you one of these days
Especially in a town that only has one bar
I tend to tell the truth when I can't see straight
A double shot of proof and damn it here you are
You know it's all on you
You see the state that I'm in
You got the nerve to ask me how I've been Well

Considering the hell you left me in
I think you're gone and then you're right back in my head again
Yea all the sleepless nights and whiskey over ice
Hey I'm doing everything I said I would
I guess I'm doing good

Considering you broke my heart, broke it right in two
I sit around and daydream of getting over you
And yea the whiskey burns but it don't help the hurt
At the end of the day girl I guess it could be worse

Considering the hell you left me in
I think you're gone and then you're right back in my head again
Yea all the sleepless nights and whiskey over ice
Hey I'm doing everything I said I would
I guess I'm doing good
Considering
