

Things I Shouldn't Do

Austin Snell

I didn't even put up a fight
I guess that's why you're gone and I'm down here tonight
I'm no stranger to gettin' it wrong
It's been long enough to sober up
I should be done with the hard stuff
I've always been good at dealin' with closure
Since my angel left the devil's on both shoulders

And I'm about to have one more even though I've had one too many
And light one up even though it won't burn your memory
Lookin' back I shouldn't have broke your heart in two
I guess I've always been good at doin' things I shouldn't do

Tell myself I'm gonna leave this bar
And head home and get some sleep
That'd be a pretty good start
It's another promise I can't keep
I should just move on, let it go
But baby if I know me

And I'm about to have one more even though I've had one too many
And light one up even though it won't burn your memory
Lookin' back I shouldn't have broke your heart in two
I guess I've always been good at doin' things I shouldn't do

I've always been good at dealin' with closure
But it's just too hard when the devil's on both shoulders

And I'm about to have one more even though I've had one too many
And light one up even though it won't burn your memory
Lookin' back I shouldn't have broke your heart in two
I guess I've always been good at doin' things I shouldn't do
Yeah, I've always been good at doin' things I shouldn't do

That's things I shouldn't do on one percent battery
