Broken Things Break Things

Austin Williams

I've seen some shit that'll make a man out of men
Every night I close my eyes and see it all again
I've been drinking and thinking but I don't that it's working
Ain't nothing covering up this hurt
That I'm running from damn near every night
I've been running outta room, got nowhere to hide
Can't find my way out but I've been searching

In a better world, better place
I'd be the man you'd come home to
But right now that won't do
I'm a storm you don't wanna walk into
A dark time you don't wanna get through
So trust me girl, walk away
Before you become the next mess that I make
I know you think you can save me
But baby, I'm broken and broken things break things

Yeah, I've been going through hell
No telling when I'll get back
Led a couple other angels down this one way track
It's a lonely, lonely never-ending path
Don't get caught up in that

Yeah, in a better world, better place
I'd be the man you'd come home to
But right now that won't do
I'm a storm you don't wanna walk into
A dark time you don't wanna get through
So trust me girl, walk away
Before you become the next mess that I make
I know you think you can save me
But baby, I'm broken and broken things break things
Baby, I'm broken and broken things break
Unbroke hearts like yours
What'd you wanna waste that on me for?

In a better world, better place
I'd be the man you'd come home to
But right now that won't do
I'm a storm you don't wanna walk into
A dark time you don't wanna get through
So trust me girl, walk away
Before you become the next mess that I make
I know you think you can save me
But baby, I'm broken and broken things break things
Baby, I'm broken and broken things break things
Baby, I'm broken and broken things break things
