Society's Sequence

Authority Zero

The world breaks loose as we grab for the noose We're spinning round an round like we're never going to lose Falling farther fast and always coming in last Jumping up and down, well, look what I've found here

I've found society It's been lying to me It's got a hold and with a really tight grasp

Let's run and face this from a different point of view It's going on all around us just tell me the truth What's right? Tell me what's wrong News stands and media can't be wrong?

What's in the papers for one and all? A modern world that is never going to fall? Just quit lying to me and let me be free Take a step back and what do I see here?
