

The Bright Side

Authority Zero

There was a time when I thought that I knew what I wanted for sure

But as time goes by, I feel I've lost what I was searching for
And I know that the choices I've made have led me to this place
Lucky or not I didn't settle in cause I sure enjoy the chase
Now I don't recognize this face

But on the bright side I still remember all of those days
On the bright side I still remember choices I made
On the bright side I still remember all of those days
On the bright side I still remember we made it great

Digging deep for an explanation, seek and you will find
Nothing was quite as it seemed, battles deep inside
Dizzy spells and dark motels, long and sleepless nights
There's nothing I could ever do, nothing I could ever do just right
But then again

On the bright side I still remember all of those days
On the bright side I still remember choices I made
On the bright side I still remember all of those days
On the bright side I still remember we made it great

Compassion, past time, honesty
Dripping from my throat
Choking on the remnants
Of everything I've owned
That I've owned up to Concerned to this
One thing I'll always show
One thing I'll always know
One thing I'll always know

But on the bright side I still remember
On the bright side I still remember
On the bright side I still remember all of those days
On the bright side I still remember
