

Love is a Double Edge Sword

Autograph

Was a rainy day
Things were not so great
Trapped in my own mind and delirious
Thinking way too much
Like a broken clutch
Stuck in my own world and oblivious
So I hopped into my car
Hit the nearest bar
I didn't give a damn I was furious
On the boulevard
Cruising fast and hard
That's when things just got really serious

Should've known better when you quit me
With the mess you left behind
On the path of self-destruction
I ran out of time

Love is a double edge sword
What you get is what you give, no less, no more

Playing with my fate
Love turned into hate
I lost control and went off the rails
Now that I'm awake
We know it's too late
I ain't the only one who has failed

Should've known better when you cheated
Pierced my heart and left me blind
On the path of self-destruction
I ran out of time

Love is a double edge sword
What you get is what you give, no less, no more
Love is going to knock on your door
You just gotta know that love is a double edge sword

I always took my chances, always took my chances
So I opened up the door
But when I least expect it, when I least expect it
You threw me on the floor

Should've known better when you cheated
Pierced my heart and left me blind
On the path of self-destruction
I ran out of time

Love is a double edge sword
What you get is what you give, no less, no more
Love is going to knock on your door
You just gotta know that love is a double edge sword

I said love is a double edge sword
I said love
