

Pearl

Autoheart

A fallen single number
The days have turned cold
I've been reflecting lately
It's time I told you
I will twist the knife
That you gave to me

A cross examination
In the pursuit of
Total evisceration
A sign from above
Can't step back in time
And we both know
You reap what you sow
It's a shitshow

Watch the air turn into sand
I can live can you withstand
We walk through a mirrored world
I see you and you see pearl

I watch you without yearning
You dance a sad fight
A sinking antidote to
What used to feel right
Looking at the clock
Close to midnight
Now I know for sure
What is after you

Watch the air turn into sand
I can live can you withstand
We walk through a mirrored world
I see you and you see pearl
You see pearl
I see you
You see pearl

Iridescent blinding light
Bright at first but soon in time
It radiates a little less
It's consequential at best

Iridescent blinding light
Bright at first but soon in time
It radiates a little less
It's symptomatic of us

Watch the air turn into sand
I can live can you withstand
We walk through a mirrored world
I see you and you see pearl
As the hourglass breaks our fall
I am one you are them all
We walk through a mirrored world
I see you and you see pearl
(And I see pearl, pearl)

You see pearl
(Pearl)
I see you
(Pearl)
