Gasping for Air

Autopsy

Tightening grip around the neck Gasping for air that isn't there Feeling life's source draining away Slowly slipping to God you pray

Eyes popping out, as the face turns blue Crushed windpipe, swallowing in blood Hopeless thoughts, loss of breath Loss of life, strangled to death

Digging the grave in which you will lie Buried head deep and left to die Body paralyzed beneath the sand Tide comes in...Asphyxiation

Watrlogged corpse, Back from the dead Rips the eyeballs from his head Snapping neck, blood pours down Decapitated body rotting away
