

Observations

Avail

Tell me why you think
Of the days before
When life was routine
Which reality broke

These people are the same
You have changed
Don't face forward and
Turn around

Just watch
Where you point that gun or you
May lay flat on the ground
Right back
Where you started
Strive better you now

Tell me why you learn
From your mistakes
Can you awaken
On the right side and choose
A strong foundation
Where you learn it all again
