

I Need You

Avalanche City

Oh my love I'd fallen for you long before
You ever said a word to me and now I see I need you more
Oh my love when I had you in my hands to hold
Your lips went inside my heart and down my spine and left a hole

So I need you more than anybody else
Oh I need you oh and I need you now
So I need you more than anybody else
Oh I need you oh and I need you now

Oh my love when you looked into my eyes
When you threw your arms around me oh you know you changed my life
Oh my love when you whispered in my ear
It felt like an age reversed and washed away all of my years
Oh my love the first time you noticed me
The sunlight was dim compared to the blazing glow of victory

So I need you more than anybody else
Oh I need you oh and I need you now
So I need you more than anybody else
Oh I need you oh and I need you now
