

My Babylon

Avalanche City

Summertime means she's moving on
Can't stop the spin
Gravity is already [?]
When the dream [?] cross the sky
In the atmosphere
They carry people to another time

I got a grandparent left to meet, mmh
The others have higher purposes
One day I will see
In the years that have passed us by
I wonder if you'll remember me
From a past life

They say things change
With your picture in my pocket
I'm... lost again
Oh, things change
I spend all my time looking back
Miles away, oh-oh
I remain in my Babylon
Lost again

And my fight is on the brink

But I don't know if I have to leave
In ferry lights left all alone
Still figurin' from last Christmas
Didn't last that long

When you talk about the one-way track
And you're shiverin'
I've never seen your eyes like that
And I know I should face the fears, mmh
Will the kids ask me where we go
When we disappear?

They say things change
With your picture in my pocket
I'm... lost again
Oh, things change
I spend all my time looking back
Miles away, oh-oh
I remain in my Babylon
Lost again

I remain in my Babylon
Lost again
