

You Ain't Right

Avant

Yeah, it's just more drama, it's kinda funny,
Things you go through in your lifetime,
Sometimes you just can't explain it, well,
Do women do what men do, if you don't think
So, explain this to me, keep it real

Tell me where you were last night
I caught you in another lie
See you been creepin' for so long
You see I had this feeling (feelin')
That you ain't never been true
Shit you said you did not do
Confessions goin' down tonight (down tonight)
See you won't get a chance to me no more lies

You know you ain't right
Been livin' double lives
Creepin' on the low
You thought I wouldn't know
You know you ain't right
Been livin' double lives
Creepin' on the low
You thought I wouldn't know
But I know babe

See you mistake me for a fool
Thought you could walk on me like a shoe (oh no)
Steady carryin' dirt through this house
I gotta call that you were seein' across town
I never thought you stoop so low, never, never
This far I thought you'd never go, never, never
But like a card game you played yourself
Now play the game with someone else
Because you ain't right

You know you ain't right
Been livin' double lives
Creepin' on the low
You thought I wouldn't know
You know you ain't right
Been livin' double lives
Creepin' on the low
You thought I wouldn't know
But I know babe

I know about the jeep with the chromed out rims
I know about the club and the late night meals
I know about the conversation on the phone
I know about the nights that you didn't come home

Cause you been livin'
And you've been givin'
And you've been creepin'
On the low, on the low
And I gotta let you know
It's all right, it's all right
It's OK, it's OK

Baby bye, baby bye
No more lies, no more lies

You know you ain't right
Been livin' double lives
Creepin' on the low
You thought I wouldn't know
But I know babe

Do you want to be on his side girl
Who's the fool here baby
You make me just sit here and think
Sometimes I say
Oh oh
Oh oh
