

Queen of Blades

Avatar

Hear them marching
Another hoof or claw
We fall in line and...
We march as one

I hatched at dawn
The dawn of war
And by tonight I was ready

Now we're breathing
We breath as one
We don't speak but
We share our thought
We share our hunger
We share our hate
And in the end
We will share death

So far
We travel through your nightmares
The swarm
Will live and die for her
The Queen of Blades

Now we see her
The wings that carry us
The hand that pulled us
Out of our sleep

She is the answer
She is the call
She is the scent we follow

Getting stronger
A stench between the stars
These humans fear
Rotten stinks

She knows their kind
She knows their path
And down this path is our victory

So far
We travel through your nightmares
The swarm
Will live and die for
The Queen of Blades

Hear us marching
So many hooves and claws
We fall in line and
We march as one
We hatched at dawn
The dawn of war
And by tonight we were ready

Call on the stars

The swarm has been reborn
One million roars
Risen by the hordes

No machine, oh no machine
No machine left by sundown

So far
We travel through your nightmares
The swarm
Will live and die for
The Queen of Blades
