

Tooth, Beak & Claw

Avatar

This little beast went out in the world,
found out he had brothers, was finally heard
And this little beast was natures own error, grew like a tree, born to spread terror

This little beast went out in the world,
This little beast was natures own error,
grew like a tree, born to spread terror

For every speck of light, in a clouded blind, shines a knight in the forest Watching and waiting, as soon as you sleep we come out You've got your time, we have our patience, in the end your a number
We all can see you, and deep down you know we're right there

Eyes open wide, open your mind
We can take it
With tooth, beak and

Claw our way through feathers and flesh, we have to fight to our last breath Nothing can hurt those who never return

Take in the silence, smell all the We awoke to defend it
You will not hear us, but once you can see it's too late

Eyes open wide, open your mind
We can take it
With tooth beak and

This little beast went out in the world,
found out he had brothers, was finally heard
This little beast was natures own error,
grew like a tree, born to spread terror

This little freak went out in the world, he also found sisters, a world full of hurt
This little freak was natures own error,
grew like a tree born to spread terror

Eyes open wide, open your mind
We can take it

With tooth, beak and claw
