

Great Beyond

Avatarium

I saw a falling star outside my window last night
I know my days are few and time is a flickering light

A silent wish
On my lips

I see the shadow the ghost you make me be
No one will speak a word of how and when I'll be free

Oh silent depth
Sweet nothingness

I will be diamonds in the sky
I will be right behind your eyes

A graceful solitude there is nothing more to know
Oh gates of mercy on steady feet I will go

Dark sun will set
On no regrets
