

You're on your own
This house is no home
But it seems like there's just no where else to go
Counting the days
You're still counting those nights
And all you've been waiting for is just something that's right
You're left alone
Thrown away like a stone
And it seems like there are
So many places unknown

Oh Love, let us change it all together
No, trust me, I know it'll all be better

And oh-oh, look all the way we go
And oh-oh, know that I'll never let go
Cause oh-oh, there's so much we still don't know, oh
And oh, just look all the way we go

You're on your own
This house ain't no home
And I'm still holding on
But I'm tired of going on and getting

Oh, Love let us change it all, together
No, trust me, I know it'll all be better

And oh-oh, look all the way we go
And oh-oh, know that I'll never let go
Cause oh-oh, there's so much we still don't know, oh
And oh-oh, just look all the way we go
Oh-oh, look all the way we go
And oh-oh, know that I'll never let go
Cause oh-oh, there's so much that we still don't know, oh
And oh-oh, just look all the way we go
