Walls

AVEC

You should cut the rope, cut the tie now
Was willing to let go
And all these lonely nights that I've cried
In the moonlight as a shadow

And you said you don't mind, take your time, it's all fine
But then again you [?] couldn't have realized

I guess we'll never find our way to each other
'Cause all I did was chase off this love on my own
And I'm sorry that I couldn't dive in deep water
While we're still building, building up these walls

I know there's no hope, love's a lie
But I was trying to save us
But January passed and I knew that
It's you who just gave up

And you said you don't mind, take your time, it's all fine
But then again you [?] couldn't have realized

I guess we'll never find our way to each other
'Cause all I did was chase off this love on my own
And I'm sorry that I couldn't dive in deep water
While we're still building, building up these walls

In our head, chained to these walls
In our head

And oh, I still feel you
I hate that I still feel

I know we'll never find our way to each other
'Cause we're just too scared of what we don't know
And I try to take the weight of this love off my shoulders
'Cause I know I'm better off dancing on my own

I guess we'll never find our way to each other
'Cause all I did was chase off this love on my own
And I'm sorry that I couldn't dive in deep water
While we're still building, building up these walls

In our head, chained to these walls
In our head, only love
In our head, building the walls
In our head
