

Lookin' at you, it must be fate
You should see it through my eyes someday (someday)
I'm losin' my time babe
It's the affliction of your beauty see
It's a whole lot of vacancies so
I'll be more than just a memory
'Cause I ain't here to waste your time

Tell me who you're gonna run for
Truth be told I'm still the realest one that you know
And I won't do you no wrong
I know you're hearing all the wrong things
I could never turn around when you feel inside
You ain't rolling no dice with me

Everything is conditional
You ain't gotta act innocent (oh, no)
You should cross the retirement zone
Gimme time that was thrown away
You can tell that I came for you
Not no celebrity
The reason that you feel secure
You're all alone

Tell me who you're gonna run for?
Truth be told I'm still the realest one that you know
And I won't do you no wrong
I know you're hearing all the wrong things
I can never turn around when you feel inside
You ain't rolling the dice with me

Up in my face then you turn around
The opposites right yeah we do attract
Speak to my soul 'cause you stay on my mind
Since I met you
If I talk about love could you add to that Show you could trust all the things that I do
Never doubt in the way that I move

Tell me who you're gonna run for
Truth be told I'm still the realest one that you know
And I won't do you no wrong
I know you're hearing all the wrong things
I can never turn around when you feel inside
You ain't rolling no dice with me
